Acts 27

1. Which truth comes most naturally to you during a difficult season: you have a role to play, God's plan has not failed, or God is with you? Why?
2. Which falsehood are you most likely to believe during a difficult season: you can let go and let God, God's plan has failed, or God has abandoned you? Why?
3. What is one situation in your life right now which could improve if you took action? What action needs to be taken? What is preventing you from taking that action?
4. What has helped you make sense of the apparent contradiction between God's sovereignty and our responsibility? How might our lives be affected if we only believe one or the other? How could our lives be improved if we really believed both at the same time?
5. Have you ever felt like you missed the will of God for your life? When? How would you respond if someone suggested that nothing, including you and your decisions, is powerful enough to overthrow God's plan for you?
6. What is most comforting to you when you are doubting God's presence in your life? How do you remind yourself He is with you always?
